

SPAIN ANGERED BY GERMANY

Pittsburgh Beats Washington 21-0 in the Rose Bowl

Panthers Avenue Three Previous Defeats on the West Coast

L. S. U. IS DEFEATED

Loses to Santa Clara as Californians Unleash Passing Attack

PASADENA, Cal.—(AP)—The University of Pittsburgh Panthers walloped Washington's Huskies, 21 to 0, Friday, stunning the capacity crowd of 87,196 that jammed Pasadena's Rose Bowl.

Pitt, out to avenge three previous defeats here, scored a touchdown in the first quarter, put over another in the third on a 71-yard run by Bill Daddio, and added another in the final period. Sutherland's reserves were threatening to score again at the final gun after completing a 30-yard pass.

It was a perfect day for football with a chilly atmosphere and a bright sun. It was a battle of lines. Pitt had the better with Daddios, Matisis, Glassfords, Danniells and Hoffmans smashing over the Husky tacklers to pave the way for the ball carriers.

Most of the glory went to two men playing their last game for Pitt, Frank Patrick, 190-pound fullback from East Chicago, Ind., who scored two of the Easterners' touchdowns, and little Doby LaRue, 164-pound halfback. Bill Daddio, Pitt end, ran 71 yards for a touchdown after he intercepted a lateral pass thrown by Byron Haines, Washington halfback. In addition to playing a great defense game, Daddio placekicked for the extra Pitt points after the touchdowns.

Santa Clara Beats L. S. U.

NEW ORLEANS.—(AP)—Santa Clara flashed a spectacular passing and running attack to defeat Louisiana State, 21 to 14 Friday in the third Sugar Bowl game at Tulane stadium before a capacity crowd of 41,000.

The Pacific coast eleven outplayed the previously unbeaten Louisiana team all the way. It was Louisiana State's second defeat in the Sugar Bowl. The Tigers lost last New Year's Day to Texas Christian, 3 to 2.

Unheralded as a passing club, Santa Clara filled the air with aerials, put up a fine defense against the Louisiana line and continually set the Tigers back through the great punting of Chuck Favelka.

The Broncos scored a pair of touch-

(Continued on page three)

In Tacoma Mystery Spotlight

Lieut. Col. Gus Appelmann

Charles Mattson

Virginia Chatfield

Play Sunday Night at First Christian

"The Good Ship 1937", Playlet, Will Replace Night Sermon

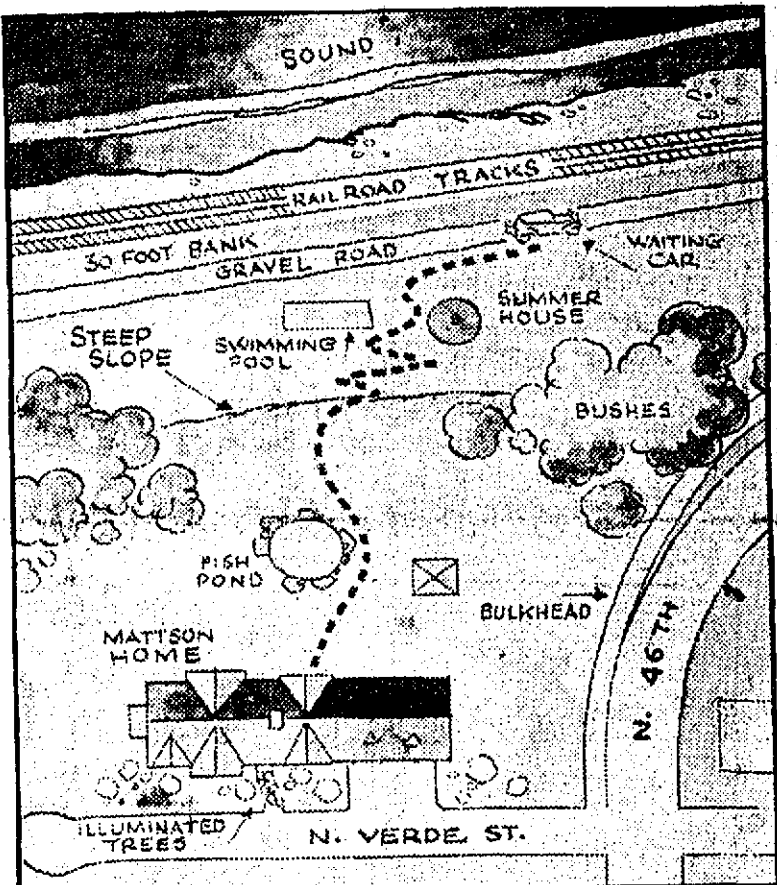

As part of the regular Sunday night service at First Christian church this week the Christian Endeavor society will present a short play entitled "The Good Ship 1937". Special musical numbers and choruses by the choir are a part of the play.

The characters represent the Junior Officers of the Good Ship 1937, steering full-speed-ahead across the Bay of Time to the entrance of the Harbor of the Future, where they are to launch a new vessel, the Good Ship 1937, and leaving their old ship in the hands of the Ship-builder of Eternity, sailing away toward the horizon of the Future.

Taking part in the play are: Winnie Lee Floyd as First Mate; Ruth Dickinson as Second Mate; Aubrey Green as Steward; Francis Harper as Cabin Boy; Jennie Sue Moore as Purser; Henry Taylor as Brown; Georgia Dadds as Stewardess; and other members of the C. E. Society as ship's crew. Miss Edith Harper as accompanist and members of the church choir will assist with musical numbers. The cast is directed by Mrs. V. A. Hammond and Mrs. Jewell Moore, adult sponsors of the Christian Endeavor society.

The public is invited to be present for this program, which replaces the regular Sunday night sermon.

Some species of wrasse fish lie flat on their sides at night, and sleep.

In escaping from the Mattson home in Tacoma, Wash., the kidnaper of Charles Mattson, 10, followed the route shown in this diagram. After breaking a window to get into the home, and cowering the children who were there alone, the kidnaper seized Charles and made his way outside. His path then led through the rear of the grounds and down a wooded slope to a car parked beside a gravel road.

In the pictures at the top, left to right, are: Lieut. Col. Gus Appelmann, understood to be the go-between in the Mattson kidnapping; Charles Mattson, the 10-year-old victim; and Virginia Chatfield, 14, who was in the Mattson home when the kidnaper entered, and had a close view of the criminal as she and Charles' brother and sister stood helplessly by as the abductor seized the 10-year-old boy.

Government Begins Cutting Credit to Control Inflation

Bank Reserves Increased, and Stock Margin Requirement Hiked

CASH TRADE BASIS

Vigorous Action Against Inflation—But "Relief" Load to Continue

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON.—The administration, and for this purpose that includes congress, must show some time soon just how brave it is.

The test will come not only in cracking down on the big fellows, but upon the little ones. The jobs involved are: To control the prosperity rise before it explodes into a boom.

To cut down the load of relief and government expense, or increase taxes. Several measures of course already have been displayed in dealing with the possible boom. Less political heroism has been indicated so far in cutting down the burden of relief and government expense.

Months ago the banks were ordered to put about $1,300,000,000 more reserves back of deposits. That wasn't meant to make the deposits safer. No fear is felt for them. It was to tie up money that otherwise might have been pumped into the security markets.

Federal Reserve in Action

Political courage was read into the government's issuing public warnings that there was danger to the stability of American markets from the influx of about seven billions of foreign capital which might be withdrawn precipitately. That was followed up by treasury action "sterilizing" all new and foreign gold receipts so they cannot swell bank reserves so actively. The federal reserve board also pulled on the reins by increasing marginal requirements; in other words, reducing the amount of cash that could be borrowed on stocks for speculative purposes.

The reserve board still has authority to require another billion or so to be set aside as bank reserves. There is talk of asking congress to give the reserve board and the Securities and Exchange commission still further power to handle the boom.

But now check up the economy talk. President Roosevelt himself discouraged many persons ambitious to cut government costs when he let it be known that his reorganization plans called more for efficiency than economy.

Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, has indicated he wanted even more than the half billion dollars the President had in mind to carry on for the balance of this fiscal year. Yet, on the saving side, when he sought recently to cut WPA rolls in New York, he was overriden.

Many Are Pessimistic

In light of many experiences, it is

(Continued on page three)

Call Guardsmen to Enforce Ousting of Woman Mayor

She Answers by Filling Daytona Beach (Fla.) City Hall With Police

STATE VERSUS CITY

Retiring Governor Strikes at Administration of Own Home Town

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—(AP)—National Guardsmen mobilized here and in two nearby communities Friday night to assist in enforcing a gubernatorial order against Daytona Beach's defiant woman mayor and five other city officials.

Adj. Gen. Vivian Collins issued the mobilization order after Mayor Irene Armstrong, middle-aged housewife, replied to Gov. Dave Sholtz's removal order by filling the city hall with heavily armed police and refusing to produce municipal records. Troop were summoned on the double quick by blasts of the fire siren here after Collins ordered companies of 50 men each to proceed here from nearby St. Augustine and Sanford.

Charge Wasting Funds
Sholtz summarily removed Mrs. Armstrong and her entire administration, with the exception of one commission member, on charges of excessive expenditures and lack of "sound judgment and ability."

The military swung into action while attorneys sought an injunction to prevent Sholtz-appointed successors from entering the city hall or assuming any municipal duties. Thirty policemen and 50 special guards carrying pistols, shotguns and riot guns fringed the building as Judge Herbert B. Frederick studied the hastily prepared petition. "We will not fight," said City Attorney L. J. C. Harton. "If the National Guard tries to enter the city hall, they'll have to break down the door. But there will be no shooting."

His words were interrupted by the rumble of trucks carting off loads of records and filing cabinets from the building.

Succeeded Husband

The dark-haired, determined mayor succeeded her husband less than a month ago because of his anticipated removal. Charges of converting public property are pending against Armstrong, his son and several other city officials.

Sholtz is a resident of Daytona Beach. His term as governor expires next Tuesday.

Collins, who said the governor instructed him to act as his agent in the event of trouble, said 50 militiamen, under command of Capt. George Kendrick, would go from here. He directed Capt. Harold Washburn to proceed immediately with a company of 60 men from Sanford.

Unable to enter the city hall, the newly appointed commission called a

(Continued on page three)

Turned Brown By Brown Turner

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—Spent four hours trying to help a man fill out an application to take civil service examination and came to the conclusion the only man really qualified to take such a test had been crucified something like 1900 years ago. Democrats pushed this law off on us as a protective measure just in case the Republicans get back in power, but now that it has been proved there are not many Republicans left, it ought to be repealed, and let Democratic Congressmen make lifetime appointments. They keep on saying Congress won't pass any new tax bills this year, but they don't say anything about letting you forget the old ones.

Mrs. Tom Butler, Rocky Mound, Dies

Succumbs in Local Hospital After Being Ill Since Tuesday

Mrs. Tom Butler, 45, of the Rocky Mound community east of Hope, died Saturday morning in Julia Chester hospital. She has been ill since Tuesday.

Mrs. Butler had been a resident of Hempstead county many years. Funeral and burial arrangements had not been completed at noon Saturday.

She is survived by her husband, two sons, one daughter, two brothers, three sisters, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Dillard of Hope.

Gangrene Breaks Out on Ailing Pope

Pius Insists, However, on Holding Conference With Archbishop

VATICAN CITY, Rome, Italy.—(AP)—Weakened by lack of sleep and facing danger of gangrene in an open wound in his left leg, Pope Pius insisted Saturday on discussing church problems with a French archbishop.

Vatican officials reported no material change in the condition of the holy father.

You Wanna Duel, Eh?

COLUMBIA, S. C.—(AP)—If you are challenged to a duel in South Carolina, just speak up in court and the challengers may go to jail.

A law passed in 1880 fixes the penalty for "whoever shall challenge another to fight at sword, pistol, rapier, or any other deadly weapon, or who shall accept any such challenge," at loss of suffrage and public office, plus up to two years in prison.

Hitler's Cruiser Firing on Spanish Ship 'Act of War'

Radical Government Takes Its Case to France and Great Britain

ITALO-BRITISH PACT

Mussolini and England Come to Terms on Mediterranean Issue

PARIS, France.—(AP)—The Spanish government's ambassador to Paris declared Saturday that a German warship's shelling of the Spanish freighter Soton was "an act of war" and said the Spanish envoys would at once consult the French and British governments.

Previously the Basque government at Bilbao had brought the matter to the attention of Valencia, demanding full support for the enlistment of foreign aid in preventing any German blockade of the Basque coast.

Basques of Retaliate
BILBOA, Spain.—(AP)—The Spanish Basque government ordered "extreme measures" Saturday in reply to the shelling of the Spanish freighter Soton by the German cruiser Koensigberg.

These "extreme measures" and their international repercussions, were not explained in detail.

The German cruiser Koensigberg late Friday fired upon the Soton, forcing her aground, in reprisal for the retention of part of the cargo and a Spanish passenger by the Basque captors of the German freighter Palos.

Blacksmith Dies of Charcoal Fumes

Newport Man Found Dead Saturday in Car at Rear of Shop

NEWPORT, Ark.—(AP)—Employees found the body of Orla Felts, 32, farmer and shop owner, early Saturday in a parked car at the rear of his blacksmith shop.

Coroner Sam Rich said death apparently resulted from asphyxiation, caused by fumes from a charcoal stove on the rear seat of the car.

Holding that death was accidental, the coroner said no inquest would be conducted.

Girls Live in Camps Just Like C. C. C. Today's Picture Story

How Uncle Sam Is Training Jobless Women for Fresh Start

In these buildings, top photo, near Wolf Lake, Ill., live a group of girls who seek to sidestep poverty and unemployment. In a project typical of those being set up by the National Youth Administration, these girls are learning how to make a living and how to enjoy such relaxation as the ball game, shown below.

After the girls arise at 7 a. m., they take shower baths, dress, eat breakfast, and return to put dormitories in order before starting to classes. Some of the responsibility is developed by placing the girls, who range in age from 18 to 23 years, "on their own" in many duties. One of these is to make their own beds, as pictured above.

Initiative unawakened in previous environment thrives at the school. This dressing table, before which Miss Louise Anderson, of Johnston City, Ill., is fixing her hair, was made by students for temporary use, from crates and fruit boxes. Many girls make their own skirts and blouses. No uniform is provided.

Physical education, home economics, music, dramatics, and handicraft are among subjects offered in the four-month school term. The group above is painting toys and dolls to fulfill outside work requirements. But it isn't all work. There's the $5 monthly personal allowance, hikes, and parties which boys may attend.

Hope Star

Justice, Deliver Thy Herald From False Report!

Published every week-day afternoon by Star Publishing Co., Inc., 100 E. Main St., Hope, Ark. (Established 1882).
 Published by Star Publishing Co., Inc., 100 E. Main St., Hope, Ark. (Established 1882).

C. E. PALMER, President
 ALEX. H. WASHBURN, Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Hope, Arkansas Under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Definition: "The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, through widely circulated advertisements, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."—Col. R. S. McCormick.

Subscription Rate: (Always Payable in Advance): By city carrier, per week 15c; per month 65c; one year $6.50. By mail, in Hempstead, Nevada, Howard, Miller and LaFayette counties, $3.50 per year; elsewhere $6.50.

Member of The Associated Press: The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

National Advertising Representatives: Arkansas Dailies, Inc., Memphis, Tenn., Sterick Bldg.; New York City, 369 Lexington; Chicago, Ill., 75 E. Wacker Drive; Detroit, Mich., 338 Woodward Ave.; St. Louis, Mo., Star Bldg.

Changes on Typhus, Etc.: Charges will be made for all tributes, cards of thanks, resolutions, or memorials, concerning the departed. Commercial newspapers hold to this policy in the news columns to protect their readers from a deluge of space-taking memorials. The Star disclaims responsibility for the safe-keeping or return of any unsolicited manuscripts.

The Family Doctor

Difficulty in Swallowing Is Sign of Chronic Tonsil Infection

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

After the tonsils have been repeatedly infected, they tend to become enlarged, and also to become more easily infected thereafter.

The disturbances associated with chronic inflammation of the tonsils are not nearly so severe as those in the acute infections. Nevertheless, a person with chronic infection will complain of difficulty in swallowing, of moderate soreness, and of a scratchy feeling in the throat.

The breath frequently has a foul odor in cases of chronic tonsillitis. When the tonsils are infected, the crypts or follicles seem to be full of infectious material, which is responsible for the odor. This material can not be removed by gargling or by using mouth washes, but only by being pressed out of the follicles or crypts, a performance which requires medical treatment.

Even though the material is removed repeatedly, it has a tendency to return and again fill the follicles. It has become recognized, therefore, that occasional treatment of chronic tonsillitis is only a palliative, and that the danger of the condition is so great that palliation is not to be recommended.

Chronic tonsillitis is seldom fatal in itself, but the possibility of infected ears, infected joints, or heart disease associated with chronic tonsillitis is sufficiently likely to make treatment seem desirable.

Tonsils sometimes become so large as to interfere with swallowing and breathing. In the majority of cases in which there is no enlargement, repeated infections make removal necessary.

This relationship of infected tonsils to disease elsewhere in the body is no longer a matter of theory. Investigation in many hospitals and laboratories now have proved that tonsil infections may cause infection of the heart, of the kidneys, and even of the tissues lining the abdominal cavity, a condition called peritonitis.

There is evidence that infected tonsils may be responsible for frequent colds, infected ears, fatigue, nervousness, and rheumatic symptoms. It has not been absolutely proved that infected tonsils will result in these complications in every case.

It is astonishing how many things are ready to put out shoots for us if given a chance in the winter. After all, many green houses, in fact all of them, are constantly growing fragile flowers out of season. This takes science and nothing is left to chance, but the veriest novice can learn from experience.

However, it is best to begin on things that you are sure of. Perhaps you will get no blossoms, but isn't a sprig of ferny green, grown by our own hands, enough reward for the little work it takes? And in midwinter one learns to watch jealousy for every new leaf. A greater thrill than watching for the first crocus or snow drop in spring.

On very cold nights, plants should be taken away from a frosty pane. Some will stand it, but other don't. And the green gardener won't know the difference.

Begonias make excellent house plants, as do hardy Chinese rubber plants. Japanese gardens of diminutive evergreens make attractive and worthwhile decoration for the small amateur. So, with winter ahead, it is worth trying to get the family interested in something that grows.

If you do not plant all your bulbs, it is not too late to put some small pebbles and water in a dish and set the bulbs therein. If you use hyacinth bulbs, use a wide-mouthed bottle, so the bulbs always touch water. Set in the dark until the long roots have sprouted and then bring to the window, for sun and warmth. No earth is necessary.

driven so hard that their lives were very short. As soon as the era of sky-high freight rates ended, the extreme clippers vanished.

But, while they lasted—what ships they were, and what names they had! Herald of the Morning, Flying Cloud, Golden West, Sovereign of the Seas: how those names fit them, how they bespeak the pride and love the builders had for them!

This book does ample justice to its subject. It is an invaluable record of a fascinating and glamorous era.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

This book is a complete record of the great clipper ship era. It contains an extensive text giving the case histories of 40 or more of the fastest ships ever built, and some 35 wood engravings in color showing how these vessels looked.

From about 1846 to 1860, naval architects served the great god speed. They brought out lean, knife-like vessels of incredible swiftness and grace, which recorded speeds as high as 21 knots and which were, perhaps, as breath-takingly beautiful as anything ever created by man.

The clippers, as a matter of fact, were woefully uneconomic. They lacked carrying capacity; they were fragile and occasionally treacherous; and the demand for speed caused them to be

There is a rich feast for anyone who is interested in the lore of the sea—or, for that matter, for anyone who can enjoy a colorful and romantic slice of American history—in "Clipper Ships of America and Great Britain," by Helen and Jacques La Grange (Putnam, $6).

Society

Mrs. Sid Henry Telephone 321

Why greet the New Year, if it is to be a copy of the years that went before—A tale of wrongs unrighted, that are unrighted and songs unsung, of victory.

That in firm hands let slip, of children's tears.

That no one tried to dry? How dare we write

Another page, unless it set alight

A beacon for the marchers down the years?

Now, by our vision of a brighter day, Our hope of dawn in everlasting night, Let this year see us further on the way

That winds through darkness in the sun-crowned heights

Where gleams a shining city. Ah, be bold—

And make the New Year better than the old—Selected.

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mark's Episcopal church will meet at 8 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. M. Finley, South Elm street.

The W. M. U. of the First Baptist church will meet for its regular business meeting at 2:30 Monday afternoon at the Educational building on South Main street.

Miss Hortense Denton has returned to her home in Texarkana, after a week's visit with Mrs. J. M. Boswell.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Wylie, who have been holiday guests of friends and relatives for the past week left Friday for their home in Cleveland, Ohio. They were accompanied home by Mr. Wylie's mother, Mrs. F. George Wylie.

Miss Angie Lee Smith and Earl Ponder held open house on New Year's Eve, at the Smith home on South Main street. About fifty guests called between 5:30 and 8 o'clock. The rooms carried the holiday spirit in red and green decorations and the color scheme of red and white was very beautifully developed in the table decorations. Miss Julia Broening and Dorothy Guster presided over the tea. Miss Smith and Mr. Ponder were assisted in the courtesies of the evening by Mrs. J. F. Smith and Miss Jerry Smith.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Christian church will meet at 8 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Moore, with Mrs. Lile Moore as joint hostess.

Mrs. George Dodd, chairman of the Christmas seal committee, requests that those who have not made returns for their seals, please do so by January 10.

The Young Mothers' Circle of the First Methodist church will hold its January meeting at 2:30 Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. O. Kyler, 502 South Hamilton street.

Mrs. V. A. Keith and children, Vincent Jr., and Jean Louise have returned to their home in Texarkana, after a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Coop.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kondall of El Dorado are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wardlaw and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coop.

Miss Wanda Collins entertained a group of her friends at a watch party on Thursday evening. Games were enjoyed and sandwiches, cookies and hot chocolate was served to 17. Melba and Harold Alford of Stephens, cousins of the hostess were special guests.

The following clipping from the Daily Ardmoreite will be of interest to the many friends of the bride in this city—Mr. and Mrs. George H. Turner announce the marriage of their daughter, Mildred Ann to Cecil James Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Scott, which took place Christmas eve at the First Baptist church, with the Rev. Dewey Lee Riley, pastor of the church at Madril reading the service. Only attendants at the ceremony were the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Clarence L. Feller and Mr. Feller. The bride is a pledge to Pi Kappa sorority at Southern State Teachers College where she will finish the semester. She enrolled there this fall following a year at Oklahoma College for Women at Chickasha. Mr. Scott received his education in Norman and now is employed with the Griffin Grocery Co. in Ardmore, where the couple will be at home after January 22.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of thanking our friends for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the recent illness and death of Annie Lee Smith.

Willie Smith
Maggie Scott
Grant Scott
Ethel Williams
Ore Lee Hamilton
George Scott

Call Guardsmen To

(Continued from page one)

night meeting at a fire station. Some member contemplated swearing in a new police force in order to gain possession of municipal records.

Throughout Friday the police guard kept all comers out of the city hall except members of the Armstrong administration. Firemen hooked up a hose outside the building but commented they were "just practicing."

Roads New Show

JACK OAKIE, as president of the mythical Oakie-Doakie College of the Air, is star of a new radio show broadcast over the Columbia coast-to-coast network every Tuesday evening.

Musical background for the program is furnished by Benny Goodman's swing band, George Stoll's orchestra and best of real undergraduate talent selected from colleges and universities throughout the country.

Oakie-Doakie College also brings you guest stars—note screen and radio comedians acting as visiting professors and lecturers.

Saves Policemen's Lives, Loses Own

Served With Summons, He Pushes Them Out of Way of Death

PARAMUS, N. J.—(AP)—David MacLead Jr., 24, of Englewood was killed by an automobile Friday when he pushed to safety two state troopers who were preparing to give him a summons for driving with 1936 plates.

Trooper Julius Klingner and Maurice Connell credited MacLead with saving their lives.

The troopers said they had stopped MacLead on Route 4 in Paramus. One with intent on writing out a summons, and the other with examining MacLead's license when the car bore down on them. Suddenly they were pushed off the road by MacLead, they said, but he was struck by the car. He was hurled several feet and died six hours later in Hackensack hospital.

Klingner and Connell arrested Ernest A. Butzberger, 18, of Edgewater on a manslaughter charge. They said he had no driver's license.

Spain Angered

(Continued From Page One)

lished, to announce the important news that the friction between England and Italy which threatened to burst into open conflict this time last year had been eliminated.

It is considered probable that the accord will assist in the eventual resolution of the Spanish civil war as a danger to the status quo of the Mediterranean.

Germany Retaliates

BERLIN, Germany.—(AP)—For the first time since the World war a German warship Friday seized a foreign vessel at sea, invoking reprisals against the Spanish Socialist government which last week sequestered the Nazi freighter Palos.

A brief semi-official statement announced capture of the Spanish ship. The Foreign Office declined to add further details, but the seizure was said to be in retaliation for the Bilbao government's refusal to surrender the cargo and a passenger of the Palos.

The retaliation the statement said, was the German government's determination to regain the Palos's cargo and the passenger, an unidentified Spaniard.

The Palos was released by the Bilbao captain at the demand of the German government, which sent the warship Koenigsberg to the Bay of Biscay to back up its virtual ultimatum.

The Koenigsberg and the pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee were said to have participated in Friday's seizure, first of the retaliatory measures threatened by the Koenigsberg's commander. Apparently the intent of Bilbao authorities to ignore the warning presumably inspired Friday's incident.

Spring Hill

Miss Hortense Denton is over from Texarkana spending a few days with her cousin, Mrs. Frank Hill and Mr. Hill. Miss Denton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Denton. Mrs. Denton better known as Berrie Tarpley, who was born and reared at Battlefield.

Miss Bertha Hamilton of Little Rock spent the holidays with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Alb Hamilton.

Mrs. Ed Collins and daughter, Mrs. James Martin and baby, have returned to Houston after a few days visit with relatives and friends here.

Miss Eunice Reah Robertson had a delightful trip to the Rio Grande valley with her father and others recently.

Miss Nella Mae Hamilton is home from Marshall after attending school there, she had an operation for appendicitis, is doing nicely and has entered school here again.

The W. M. S. met Wednesday afternoon at the Parsonage. Devotional was led by Mrs. Bracy Smith, reading from the 6th chapter of Luke's gospel. Prayer by Mrs. Crain. Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Alvin Robertson. Twelve members were present. The following officers were elected for another year: Mrs. Smith, president; Mrs. Tom Martin, vice president; Mrs. Huckabee, secretary; Mrs. Ralph Smith, treasurer for Methodists; Mrs. E. Menden reasurer for Baptists; Mrs. Crain, reporter.

NEWS CHURCHES

GOSPEL TABERNACLE
Ben Welch, Pastor

Came to Sunday School next Sunday; get started on the Bible reading contest; each person reading the Bible through next year will be awarded a lovely Bible. Get your schedule of chapters for each day; you'll be surprised how easy you can read the entire Bible.

The pastor will speak at both the 11 o'clock morning worship hour and the 7:30 evangelistic service.

Christ's Ambassadors and children's church meet at 5:30.

Spend an enjoyable hour Sunday night at the Tabernacle, it is Hope's full gospel center.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

V. A. Hammond, Pastor

The New Year brings new goals for the classes of the church school, and a new opportunity to start all over, and "Keep Out of the Red." New attendance goals for January are as follows: Everyman's, 21; Loyol, Wesleyan, 10; Service, 25; Trojan, 10; Loyol, 12; Busy Bees, 13; Primary, 12. Total for school, 104.

The Loyol class was the only one to end the old year "Out of the Red." How many will join this week, and stay "Out of the Red" for the month? All can reach their goals if they work.

The pastor is up and abt to be at work again after being confined to his bed for a week fighting the "flu." He will conduct the regular services of worship Sunday.

Following the regular Sunday morning Communion Service the pastor will bring a message for the New Year, "The Song Is Sung, the Challenge of the New Year." Here on the threshold of the New Year we stand. The old year has told its story, sung its song, tried our armor, revealed our failures, built our faith or broken it—and now passes. How shall he go on into the New Year? Who shall be our companions? What principles shall be our guidesposts for the year forward? We must go on. How shall we go? Someone has well said that the ship which is not steered goes on no voyages.

The Christian Endeavor meeting at 6:45 p. m. has for a topic, "Whither Bound, Youth?" This is a consecration service and the program is in charge of the Prayer Meeting Committee.

In place of the usual evening sermon Sunday night the members of the Christian Endeavor Society will present a play entitled "The Good Ship 1937." Every member of the church is invited and urged to be present for this service. The choir will assist with special music and choruses.

The Women's Missionary Society will meet Monday afternoon with Mrs. H. Moore, with Mrs. F. Cox as co-hostess. Mrs. Genevieve has charge of the program.

"THEODORA GOES WILD" at Saenger

"Theodora Goes Wild," starring Irene Dunne as a comedienne, will be the first Paramount Silver Jubilee attraction at the Saenger theater. The film begins a three day engagement starting Sunday.

For the first time in a career studied with such dramatic gems as "Cimarron," "Back Street," "Magnificent Obsession" and "Showboat," Miss Dunne turns to the gay, light side of life, with gratifying results.

Playing opposite the titian-haired

Hollywood Stylists

World's Finest

"Dress Extras" in Film

Capital Average $15

Pay Per Day

By the Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD.—Film factory touring.

"History Is Made at Night," the title declares, and Jean Arthur and Charles Boyer are surrounded by a group of Hollywood's finest "dress extras" for a sequence of a fashionable evening gathering.

Frank Borzage, the director, volunteers between scenes the opinion that movie "dress extras" such as he has commended are the best dressed men in the world—not excepting the Beau Brummels of London, New York, Paris.

The exaggeration, if such it is, is slight. These men on the set today are decked in formal raiment, with never a flaw in a white tie, and never a moth hole in flowing tails.

"Millionaire" Wardrobes

The dress extra has to have a wardrobe fit for a millionaire. Must keep it up to date, and have a flair for wearing it. The successful dress extra, who get the most calls to work, know exactly what to wear without being told. The responsibility rests with them—and that is one of the reasons they draw $15 a day (or $25 for speaking lines when the ordinary extra gets $7.50).

After long preparation, the Marx brothers are actually shooting "A Day at the Races." Harpo and Chico are working on a scene, a simple scene in a hospital corridor.

Silent Harpo is following a tip-toeing Chico who continually enjoints silence. Chico finally tells Harpo to take off his shoes because they squeak. (The squeak will be added later.) Harpo obeys, revealing fattered socks, and underneath there a pair of spats.

One of the reasons they take the scene again is that the spats, mouse-colored, don't look like spats to the camera. A prop man applies make-up to the buttons, which remedies that.

But the reason they take the scene half a dozen times after that is—timing. In comedy timing is all-important. An assistant director behind the camera presses a button which signals to extras beyond the window, in the background, to start moving.

Sam Wood, the director, pressed another which flashes a blonde nurse her cue to enter from a cross corridor and be pursued by Harpo. After seven takes everything seems to be timed correctly. But Wood wears a harassed expression. The director on a Marx picture is always wearing that look. The Marxer are wearing—just wearing.

Timing Hitches Again

Timing is the hitch on the "Call It a Day" set, too. Frieda Inescort, propped up in bed, is scanning the morning paper and carrying on desultory conversation with offstage Ian Hunter. She sees that somebody has had a baby, she feels a draught, she wishes Daughter Bonita Granville would not address her father by his first name, she wonders with simpering nothing it is.

But Frieda's remarks have to be interpolated—timed—between the crackling of the paper as she turns the pages, and the pages will not co-operate until the fourth take.

Members of the Forest Hills country club, Augusta, Ga., erected a monument to the tee at the fifth hole of the course to perpetuate the memory of a double eagle scored by Al Watrous.

Find Old Jail Tree

HARLINGEN, Texas.—(AP)—A "jail tree" used by Texas rangers in turbulent border days, recently was discovered here and identified by a chain imbedded in the wood.

Rangers tethered prisoners to the "hitching post" with a chain until they could be removed to the county jail at Brownsville. The jail tree was surrounded by a corral.

Members of the Forest Hills country club, Augusta, Ga., erected a monument to the tee at the fifth hole of the course to perpetuate the memory of a double eagle scored by Al Watrous.

Government Begins

(Continued From Page One)

difficult for observers to look to congress to volunteer any real cutting of government costs. The trouble lies in this: One-third of the senators and all house members are up for re-election in less than two years. Their experience is that cutting costs in Washington also cuts votes back home.

Yet if costs are not cut, the government will need courtesies to retain or increase present tax levels to retire the depression debt. Time-seasoned Senator King of Utah does not conceal his pessimism at the prospect. He doubts that either the administration or congress will really cut costs.

Pessimism isn't universal in Washington, but back of a good many official smiles is concern over whether the courage will be available when it is needed.

Laundries-Guard PUBLIC HEALTH

BLANKETS LAUNDERED—NO SHRINKAGE 50c

NELSON-HUCKINS

SPECIAL 5 Gallons Lube Oil $1.50

Tol-E-Tex Oil Company

INSURE NOW! With ROY ANDERSON and Company Fire, Tornado, Accident Insurance.

WANTED—LOGS 500,000 Feet

White Oak Overcup, Post Oak, Burr Oak and Red Oak and Sweet Gum Logs.

Apply to HOPE HEADING CO. Phone 245

NOTICE! Opening of the MARINELLO BEAUTY SHOP

219 West Second Street Mrs. Ada Gee, Mara Louise Dodds, Edna Barger Operators. Fully equipped to do all types of beauty work.

New Serum Fails to Save Her Life

Little Rock Girl Succumbs Despite Public Subscription Drive

LITTLE ROCK.—Miss Joyce Bailey lost her brave fight for life Friday night.

The victim of the rare disease known as streptococcus viridans succumbed at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Bailey.

She was removed from Baptist State hospital to her home last Sunday because physicians believed that as much could be done for her at home as in any institution.

Perhaps no case in Little Rock ever had aroused greater sympathy or interest.

From the first physicians said that the only hope of saving her life lay in the use of a serum that is manufactured only in Paris, France. A shipment was rushed here by plane from Montreal, Canada, where it seemed that the young woman was at the point of death.

She appeared to improve under the serum treatment but it was costly and her parents had exhausted their resources in caring for her during her long illness.

The people of Little Rock responded to newspaper appeals for financial assistance and a second supply of serum was obtained. It had been used up and an attempt to finance a new supply was under way when death came.

666 Tablets for COLDS and Headaches Price, 25c

Liquid-Tablets Salve-Nose Drops

GREENING INSURANCE AGENCY

Congested Road Conditions New Drivers—all point to the need of Collision and Liability Insurance.

REEL RECKON CLEANED

Service of competent experts using the latest equipment, skilled, experienced service that works wonders with the old hat.

Hall Bros CLEANERS & PAINTERS

Stop That Cough WITH CHERROSOTE

The best remedy for simple coughs and gastric fermentation we have. 8 oz. Bottle 60c

JOHN S. GIBSON Drug Company "The REXALL Store" Phone 63 Established 1895

BUY THAT HOME Vacant lot or farm before the oil boom comes. City homes small cash payment . . . balance like rent. See A. C. Erwin

PHOTOS—4 for 10c

We make the largest and best for a dime (10c) photos that can be bought.

Come in and be convinced. THE Shipley Studio South Walnut Street—Next Door to Hope Star

WANTED—LOGS 500,000 Feet

White Oak Overcup, Post Oak, Burr Oak and Red Oak and Sweet Gum Logs.

Apply to HOPE HEADING CO. Phone 245

NOTICE! Opening of the MARINELLO BEAUTY SHOP

219 West Second Street Mrs. Ada Gee, Mara Louise Dodds, Edna Barger Operators. Fully equipped to do all types of beauty work.

Laundries-Guard PUBLIC HEALTH

BLANKETS LAUNDERED—NO SHRINKAGE 50c

NELSON-HUCKINS

SPECIAL 5 Gallons Lube Oil $1.50

Tol-E-Tex Oil Company

INSURE NOW! With ROY ANDERSON and Company Fire, Tornado, Accident Insurance.

WANTED—LOGS 500,000 Feet

White Oak Overcup, Post Oak, Burr Oak and Red Oak and Sweet Gum Logs.

Apply to HOPE HEADING CO. Phone 245

1937-1938 ALWAYS A BIG SHOW!

PARAMOUNT SILVER JUBILEE

Saenger

Sun Mon Tues

Mon-Tues Matinees 25c

Male-shy Theodora lets her hair down for a Broadway binge that sets a new high in tall laughs! Irene Dunne starts off 1937 with one grand picture!

Let's Go!

THEODORA GOES WILD

with Irene DUNNE

Melvyn DOUGLAS Thomas MITCHELL Thurston HALL Rosalind KEITH

Let's Go!

"LET'S MAKE A MILLION"

EDWARD EVERETT HORTON

WED. ONLY

EVERY SAT. A DOUBLE SHOW AT 25c

Plus Shorts

THUR. & FRI.

Dorothy Lamour

"The JUNGLE PRINCESS"

EVERY SAT. A DOUBLE SHOW AT 25c

Distinguished Inventor

HORIZONTAL

1 Inventor of the telephone.
12 Costly.
13 Permission.
14 Den.
15 Eagle.
17 Container weights.
18 Mud.
19 Yes.
20 Woods.
22 Stream obstruction.
23 Mother.
24 Drunkard.
25 Matched.
26 To generate.
27 Mountains.
33 Tidy.
34 Ringworm.
36 Mare.
37 Rimmed.
38 Aviators.
39 Death.
44 Striped fabric.
47 Lassos.

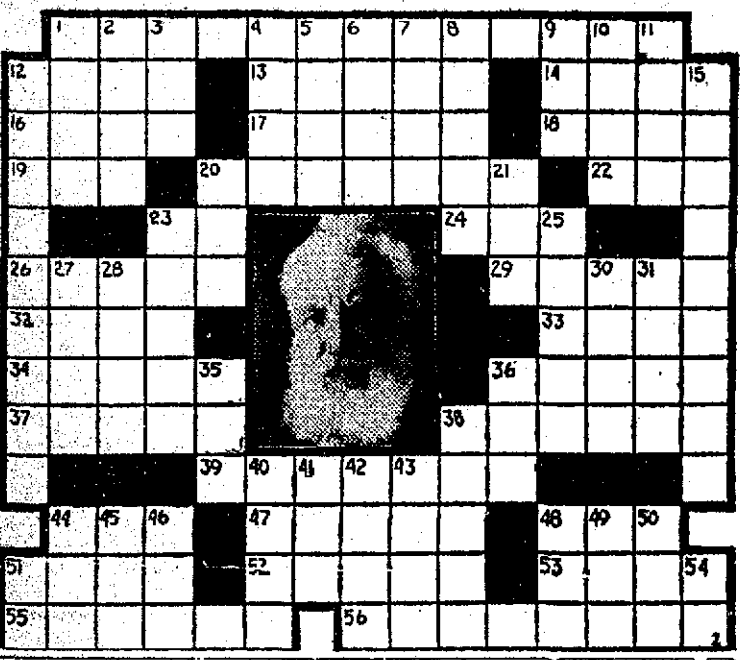

Answer to Previous Puzzle

10 Calendar.
11 Calendar.
12 Calendar.
13 Calendar.
14 Calendar.
15 Calendar.
16 Calendar.
17 Calendar.
18 Calendar.
19 Calendar.
20 Calendar.
21 Calendar.
22 Calendar.
23 Calendar.
24 Calendar.
25 Calendar.
26 Calendar.
27 Calendar.
28 Calendar.
29 Calendar.
30 Calendar.
31 Calendar.
32 Calendar.
33 Calendar.
34 Calendar.
35 Calendar.
36 Calendar.
37 Calendar.
38 Calendar.
39 Calendar.
40 Calendar.
41 Calendar.
42 Calendar.
43 Calendar.
44 Calendar.
45 Calendar.
46 Calendar.
47 Calendar.
48 Calendar.
49 Calendar.
50 Calendar.
51 Calendar.
52 Calendar.
53 Calendar.
54 Calendar.
55 Calendar.
56 Calendar.
57 Calendar.
58 Calendar.
59 Calendar.
60 Calendar.

VERTICAL

1 Dandy.
2 Narrow path.
3 Before.
4 Singing voice.
5 Close.
6 To challenge.
7 Nights before.
8 Slumbers.
9 Tree.
10 Deposited.
11 Italian coin.
12 He helped.

13 Remitting.
14 Fashion.
15 To weep.
16 Affray.
17 Tendency.
18 Dry.
19 Strong taste.
20 Microbe.
21 To relieve.
22 To total.
23 To hasten.
24 Valuable property.
25 Formerly.
26 Policeman.
27 Narrative poem.
28 Pertaining to air.
29 Data.
30 Morsel.
31 Supper.
32 Turkish cap.
33 Native metal.
34 Brooch.
35 Above.
36 Like.

DeAnn

Mrs. Alvin Willis from North Carolina is spending the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Roberts and family.

Miss Maurine Hartsfield and David McKee were quietly married last Thursday night. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life together.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy McCorkle and little son, from Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Boyett and daughters and Haller, Claude and Johnnie McCorkle and Bryan Clark were Christmas dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George McCorkle and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Smith from Patmos and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Honeycutt and sons from Hope, Mr. and Mrs. Odie Honeycutt and Mr. and Mrs.

Monroe Samuel were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Breeding, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Samuel and Paul Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Samuel, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Samuel and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burke called on Mr. and Mrs. Claude Burke Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Samuel spent Saturday with friends and relatives in this community.

Dorsey Osteen spent Saturday night with Syrell Burke of the Experiment farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Dock Samuel and Faye and Pauline, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Samuel.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sherley and children were week end guests of her mother, Mrs. Ola Lloyd and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Clark and little daughter spent Thursday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Clark.

Ruck and Lynn Wilson called on their sister Mrs. Sadie Osteen, and family Sunday afternoon.

Legal Notice

WARNING ORDER

No. 5008 In the Chancery Court of Hempstead County, Ark.
S. L. Cantley, Receiver of St. Louis Joint Stock Land Bank etc. Plaintiff vs.
Edward A. Hill et al. Defendants
The Defendants, Edward A. Hill and Mrs. Edward A. Hill, and each of them are hereby warned to appear in this court within thirty days and answer the complaint of the Plaintiff, S. L. Cantley, Receiver of the St. Louis Joint Stock Land Bank of St. Louis, Mo., a Corporation.
Witness my hand and the seal of said court this 12th day of December 1936.
Dale C. Jones, Clerk of Hempstead Chancery Court.
Dec. 12, 19, 26, Jan 2.

WARNING ORDER

IN THE HEMPSTEAD CHANCERY COURT
LOIS WEHUNT KISER Plaintiff,
vs.
ROY KISER Defendant
The defendant, Roy Kiser, is hereby warned to appear in this court within thirty days and answer the complaint of the plaintiff herein.
Witness my hand and seal as clerk of said court on this 10th day of December, 1936.
DALE JONES Clerk
Dec 12, 19, 26, Jan 2.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That in pursuance of the authority and directions contained in the decreal order of the Chancery Court of Hempstead County, Arkansas, made and entered on the 2nd day of December, 1936, in a certain cause therein pending wherein J. H. McIlroy, Trustee, was plaintiff and B. M. Nix et al were defendants, the undersigned, as commissioner of said court, will offer for sale at public vendue, to the highest bidder, in front of the Citizens National Bank building in the City of Hope, in Hempstead County, Arkansas, between the hours prescribed by law for judicial sales, on Tuesday, the 12th of January, 1937, the following described real estate, situated in Hempstead County, Arkansas, to-wit:

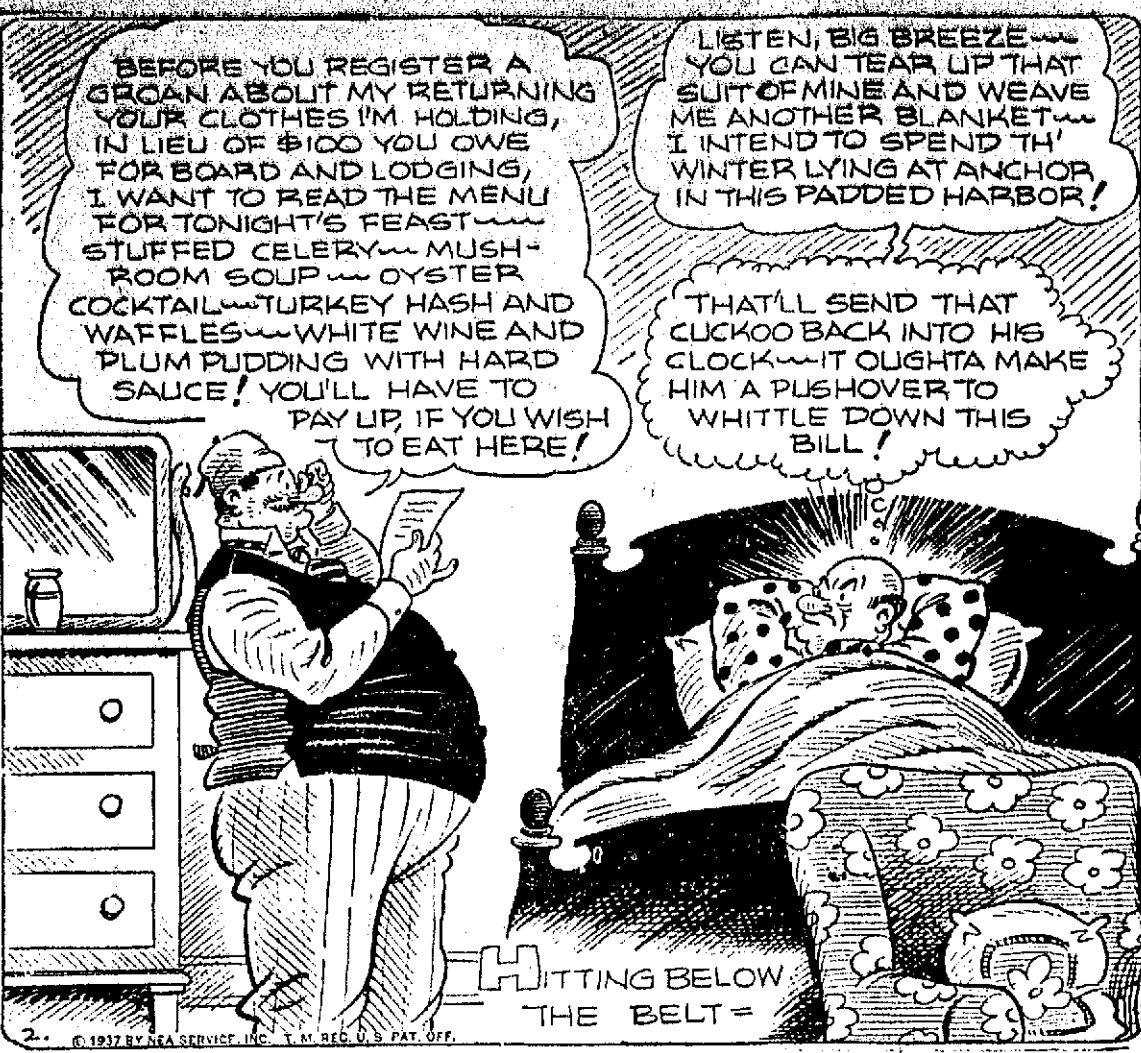

The East Half of the Southeast Quarter (E½ SE¼) of Section Twenty-nine (29), in Township Twelve (12) South, Range Twenty-three (23) West, containing 80 acres, more or less.

TERMS OF SALE: On a credit of three months, the purchaser being required to execute a bond as required by law and the order and decree of said Court in said cause, with approved security, bearing interest at the rate of 10% per annum from date of sale until paid, and a lien being retained on the premises sold to secure the payment of the purchase money.

GIVEN under my hand this 22nd day of December, A. D. 1936.
DALE JONES
Commissioner in Chancery
Dec 26, Jan 2

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

with J. Major Hoople

OUT OUR WAY

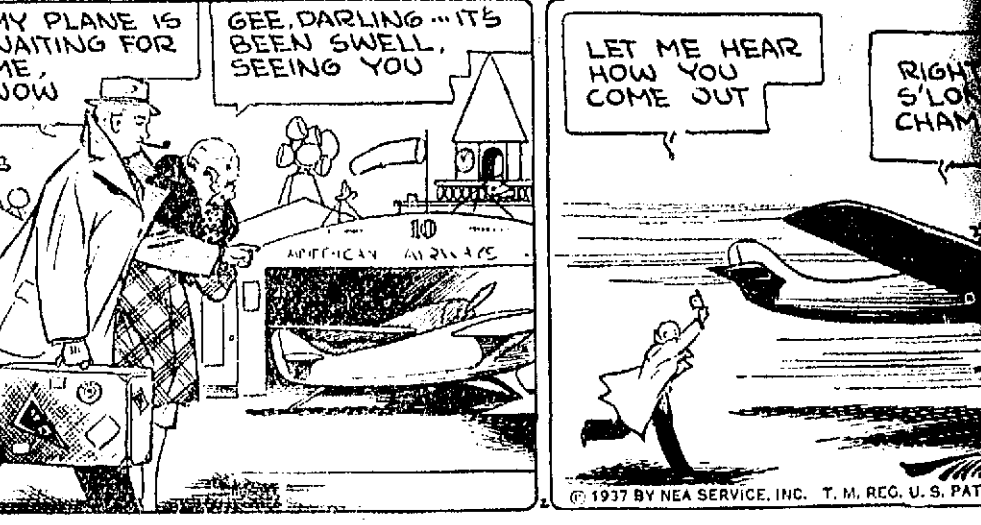

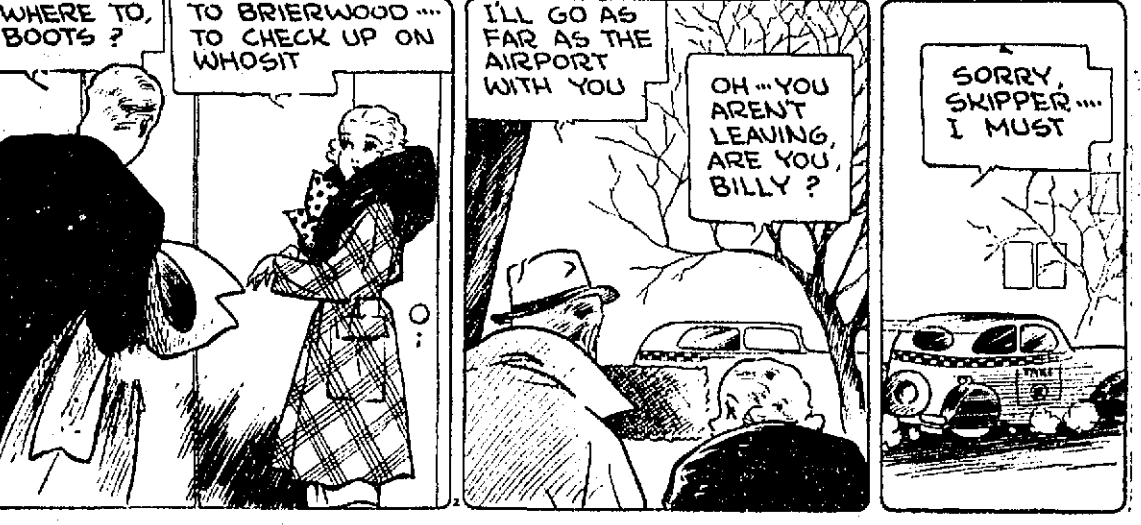

By V

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

S'Long, Billy

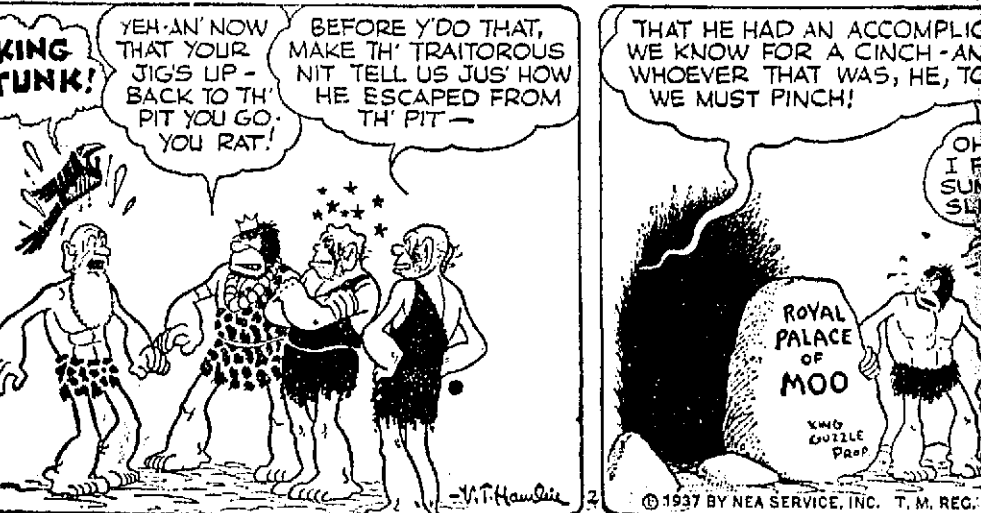

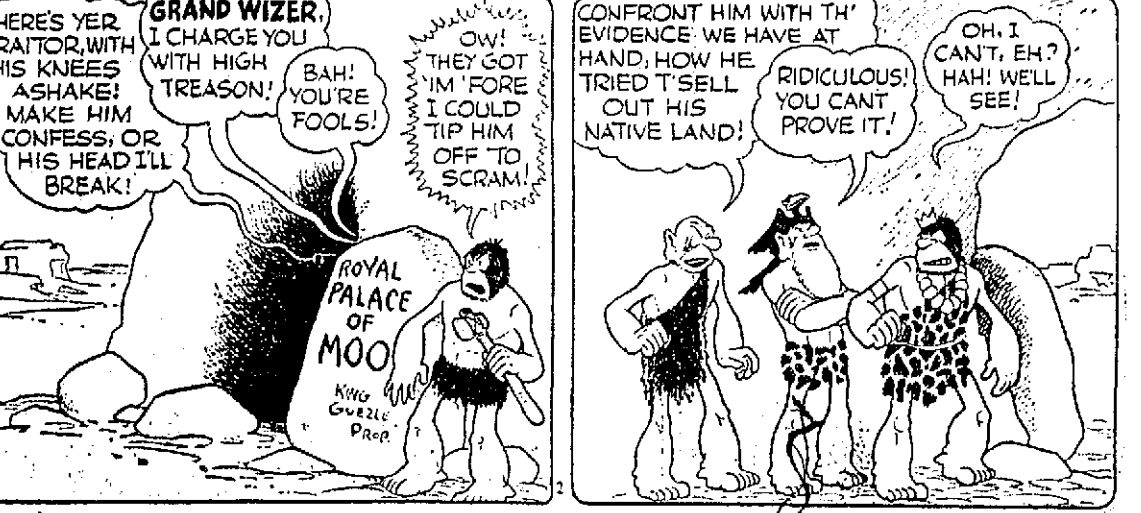

By MAR

ALLEY OOP

A Strong Case

By HAM

WASH TUBBS

Hold That Tiger

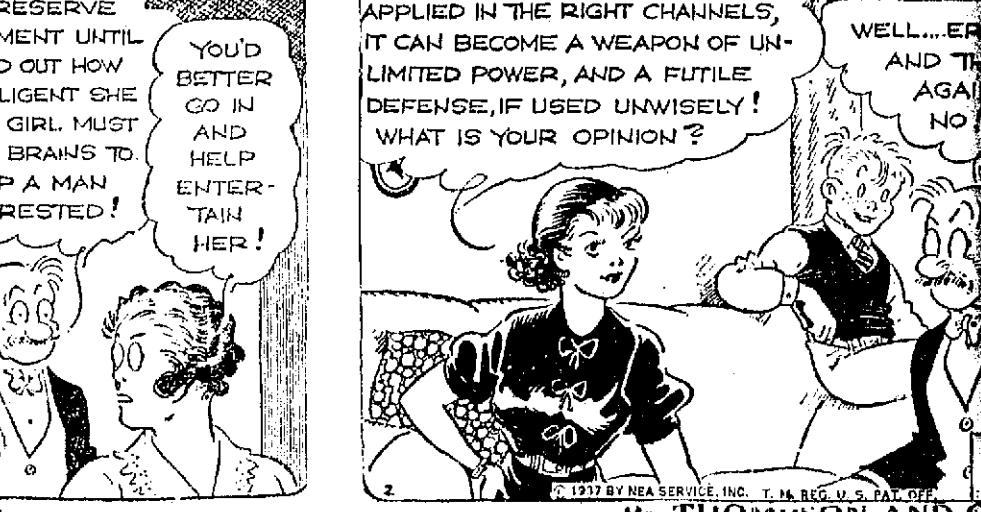

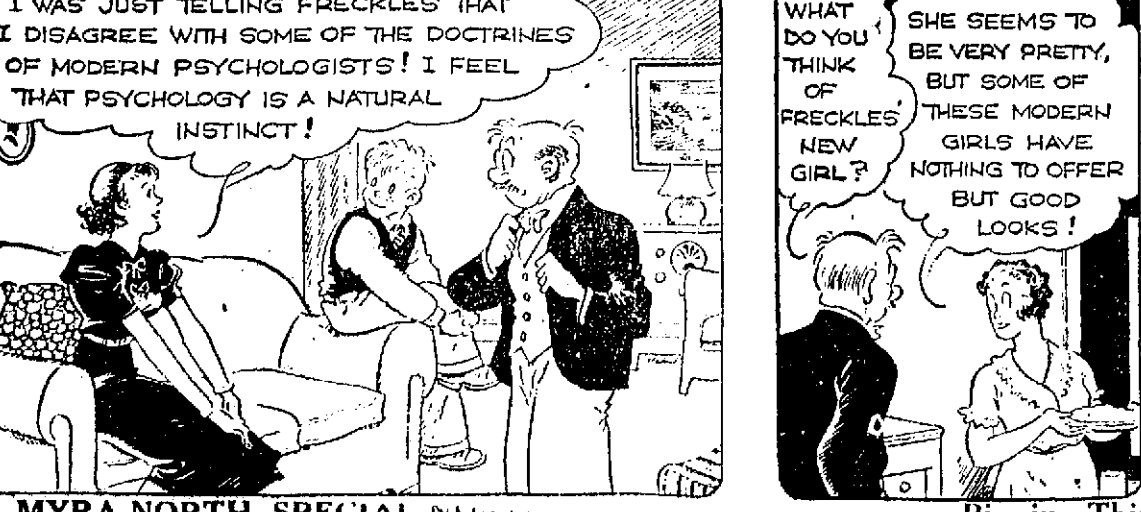

By C

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Pop's Stymied

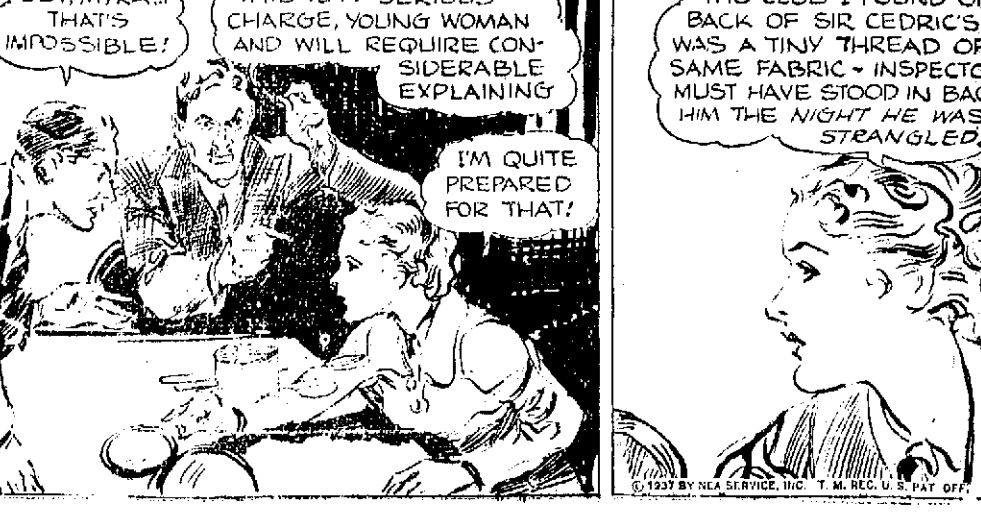

By BLO

MYRA NORTH, SPECIAL AGENT

Pinning Things Down

By THOMPSON AND C

Sell It! Find It! Rent It! Buy It! in the Hope Star

MARKET PLACE

Remember, the more you tell, the quicker you sell.
1 time, 10c line, min. 30c

For consecutive insertions, minimum of 3 lines in one ad
3 times, 6c line, min. 50c
6 times, 5c line, min. 50c
26 times, 3 1/2c line, min. 27c
(Average 5 1/2 words to the line)

NOTE: Want ads will be accepted with the understanding that the bill is payable on presentation of statement, before the first publication

Phone 766

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—One or Two room furnished or unfurnished apartments. Private bath, Utilities paid. 413 South Main.
1-31p

FOR RENT—Front bedroom. Convenient bath. Close in. 521 South Walnut. Mrs. J. D. Brown. Phone 435.
1-31p

LOST

LOST—32 by 6 Kelly truck tire on International rim between Rosston and Waldo. Reward. DUCKETT CHEMICAL CO., Hope, Ark. 2-61c

WANTED

WANTED—Fat hogs. Will pay 7c per pound. See or write R. W. Wylie, Emmet, Route 2.
10-20p

WANTED—New or renewal subscriptions on any magazine. See Charles Reynerson.
28-61c

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Bois D'Arc Posts, 5 to 8 cents per post. F. O. B. at the Farm. A. N. Stroud, Washington, Arkansas.
10-28p

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Best grade sorghum molasses. 55 cents per gallon. New buckets. Call at Hope Star office.
25-26-61c

HOPE Live Stock Commission Co.

Sale every Tuesday.
Bring livestock or anything else. Have market for all. No commission charged on first stock of any kind arriving in lot on South Walnut every Tuesday.
Tonn Carrel, Mgr.
1-261c